Dear Board members

Welcome to our new discussion board for the SRB AVM, Data and Modelling Working Group. Here you can create new discussion threads, add to existing discussions, and post attachments to share.

The benefit of using this discussion group is that all discussions can be logged in one place and we can work more collaboratively on different topics.

You can set up notifications in your profile which gives you the option to receive alerts when a new post or comment is added, and to determine the frequency of these alerts.

To do this, please click on “My account” on the left hand banner, click on the “Subscribe to discussion board comments notifications” and choose your option.

If you have any issues please contact myself or Alex Aronsohn and we will be delighted to assist.

Kind regards,
Danuta
